Select Poetry.

THE TWO WORKERS.

Two workers in one field

Toiled on from day to day;

Both had the same hard labor,

Both the same small pay.

With the same blue sky above,

The same green earth below,

One soul was full of love,

The other full of woe.

One leaped up with the light,

With the soaring of the lark;

One felt it ever night,

For his soul was ever dark.

One heart was hard as stone,

One heart was soft as dew;

One worked with many a groan,

One whistled all the day.

One had a flower-cold mill,

Beside a merry dell,

Wife and children near the spot

Made it sweeter, fairer still;

One a wretched hovel had,

Full of discord, dirt and din—

No wonder he seemed mad—

Wife and children starved within.

Still they worked in the same field;

Toiling on from day to day;

Both had the same hard labor,

Both the same small pay.

But they worked not with one will,

The reason lay in the still,

Lo! the one drank at the still,

And the other at the wall.

SWEDEN AND NORWAY

When we go from Italy to Sweden and Norway in this continent, we are not obliged to cross Prussia with her fearful Krupp guns, but merely to step over a dark lake, and enter in their gates. A great many persons here hitherto had an idea that the inhabitants of this far distant clime with its as regards style and material. Their wall paper will compare favorably with any other in the exhibition; as also the writing paper and paper as "thick as a board." In their display of steel, they excel the world. A great variety of circular saws were exhibited, and all manner of tools made in the most workman-like manner. They also display a large quantity of steel rails and gus-sets, one of the latter was certainly very fine, also ties of steel and steel coil hoops.

In the way of curiosities was one steel chip (taken from a railway wheel) the spiral length of which was 322 feet;

and the stretched length, 1286 feet.

Guns in great numbers are exhibited;

also harness for artillery and cavalry;

also wagons used in the army of unusual strength: one kind, of two wheels, carrying a third one in case of accident.

A portable blacksmith shop, on wheels,
for army purposes is also to be seen here.

The group of Swedish officers elicit a great deal of admiration for their handsome dress and soldierly bearing. They represent the infantry, artillery and cavalry; also two others who are dressed in the style of 1600 and 1700. The Swedish domestic groups, scattered through the department, are interestingly surrounded by admiring spectators, and have been mentioned, we believe, in a previous article. Altogether, Sweden and Norway have astonished our people as well as the foreign nations,

State Day at the Centennial.

DELAWARE, MARYLAND AND VIRGINIA.

IMMENSE ATTENDANCE.

Second, in Numbers, only to Pennsylvania.

Delaware Again the Banner State.

GUBERNATORIAL RECEPTIONS.

The National Tournament.

A SON OF MARYLAND CONFERS HONOR UPON DELAWARE.

THE KNIGHT OF DELAWARE TAKES THE FIRST PRIZE.

With the first peep of daylight on Thursday, Delawareans arose from their couches and started for the nearest railroad station, seeking conveyance to the Centennial grounds. Right royally did they respond to the Governor's invitation, for more people, in proportion to population, visited the great Centennial Exposition from Delaware on Thursday than any other State can boast of—on their special day—making Delaware in this respect the Banner State, as she was in the great Baltimore convention in 1844. They went by thousands on steamboat, sail vessel and railroad. At 7 o'clock the official train bearing the Secretary of State, Governor and Aids, Mayor, City Council, City Treasurer, Auditor, Solicitor, Clerk, Board of Education, Board of Health, and the Centennial Commissioners, escorted by the American Rifles and numerous citizens, also Christy's Senate, left the Wilmington depot. The sun, which up to this time had been obscured by a dense fog, now came forth in regal splendor, giving promise of a beautiful day. After many and seemingly unnecessary delays, the train reached the grounds at, or near, ten o'clock. A procession was then formed in the following order:

THE PROCESSION.

Centennial Guards, neat and tastefully uniformed, Band, Gen. Hawley and attaches, Secretary of State Grubb, Governor Cochran, Col. Maxwell, Hansson, Townsend, Walker, Dean and other aides-de-camp, with badges; Centennial Commissioners, Wilmington City Council and officials, Board of Health, Board of Education, Firemen's Centennial Commission, Delaware organizations under various corporate names, and many prominent citizens. Reaching the Delaware building, Gen. Hawley delivered a neat and pertinent address of welcome to the Governor and citizens of Delaware, to which Governor Cochran made the following appropriate reply:

Gov. COCHRAN'S ADDRESS.

Ladies and Gentlemen:—On behalf of the citizens of Delaware, I earnestly desire to make adequate acknowledgments to the United States Centennial Commission for the courteous and cordial reception they have this day extended to our State, and also for their gratifying invitation to set apart a suitable day on which her people should assemble here to assist in celebrating the International Exposition, held in Honor of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Independence of the United States.

In response to their invitation, this day has been selected as appropriate, and set apart by my public proclamation, because it seems peculiarly identified with the cause of Independence.

To-day is the anniversary of the surrender at Yorktown in 1781, an event ever memorable in our history as the crowning achievement of American patriotism which resulted in the close of the revolution and the final accomplishment of Independence.

As the soldiers of Delaware bore a conspicuous and honorable part in the revolutionary struggle, and especially in the heroic campaign which culminated in the glories of Yorktown, it is natural and proper that their descendants should feel a profound interest in the observance of this day which reminds them of both Independence won and their brave ancestors whose virtue and valor helped to win it.

In the issue of Yorktown we recognize the young and vigorous nation which to-day astonishes the world with this stupendous display of its intellectual and industrial achievements.

Yorktown made possible this marvellous exposition, this mighty gathering of the Nations and the products of every land and clime, this amazing aggregation of the practical results of the accumulated wisdom and skill of all the ages and generations of the human race in the progress of its onward march of civilization.

In this spirit, on this anniversary of the day which made it sure, we come to commemorate our Independence and its beneficent results; to celebrate that great historic event which has so signally advanced the progress of the human race in civil and religious liberty, in the arts and sciences, and in every department of intellectual and industrial activity.

In our celebration of these triumphs of peace and civilization we invite all present to participate.

To all Delawareans and their descendants; to our brethren from Maryland, who are to-day our associates in celebrating the results which their and our ancestors were inseparable comrades in achieving; to our neighbors of Pennsylvania and our fellow-country men from every State and section of the Union, we extend a cordial welcome to a participation in our commemoration of the events which mark the growth and progress of our State, and illustrate the honorable achievements of her citizens.

Col. Whiteley was then introduced, and delivered from manuscript the Delaware Oration, which will be duly published so that all can have an opportunity to read and appreciate it. The Governor, at the close of Col. Whiteley's address, gave a public reception to all present, and from his subsequent look of fatigue, all Delaware must have shaken hands with him. This ended began forming a civic procession similar to Delaware and attended by the 5th and 6th regiments of State infantry, officers mounted, and fully uniformed, on handsome and gaily caparisoned horses. Our sister State made a grand and imposing appearance as she marched to her building, the bands playing, "Maryland, my Maryland," where her beautiful daughters congregated in a mass, clapped their little kid-gloved hands in hearty welcome, flashing eyes of love and pride on the stalwart sons of their grand old commonwealth, historic in all that makes our country great. Gen. Hawley delivered the accustomed address of welcome to which John Lee Carroll, Gov. of Maryland, in a clear, ringing voice, eloquently responded in just such manner as the grandson of Charles Carroll, of Carrollton, should speak in this Centennial year which is commemorative of the act which gave a new nation birth and made the name of Carroll famous in the annals of time. At the close of Gov. Carroll's address, the Secretary of State was introduced—Fittingly and eloquently commenting upon passing events, referring to acts of the past, he spoke for a full hour and closed the ceremonies at the building.

Delaware's part of the day's observances, and

THE TOURNAMENT.

was the next specialty of the day and by 2 o'clock 100,000 persons had congregated on George's Hill to witness the tilting of the knights, who well performed their part in the day's celebration. The Knight of Delaware winning the first prize and the privilege of crowning the Queen of Love and Beauty.

Mr. R. L. Kane, who rode as the Knight of Delaware, is a resident of Baltimore county, Md. Thus the honor to Delaware was conferred by a son of her neighbor. The second prize was awarded to Mr. Chas. White, Jr., Knight of the Centennial, also a Marylander; the third to W. B. Bryan, Knight of Connecticut, another Marylander; the 4th, to F. N. Jarboe, Knight of South Carolina, and the 5th to R. W. Hereford, Knight of Maryland. Thus four out of five of the successful riders were from Maryland.

THE ATTENDANCE.

The exact attendance was not ascertained but the employees on the grounds thought it bade fair to rival Pennsylvania's day.

SEVENTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS

from the very finest nickel-plated to the cheap bed room, ranging in price from $5 to $80. My stock embraces all the improvements of the present season and was bought at very reduced prices; therefore I intend selling them at very small profits, so that every one can commence the Fall and Winter of '76 with a new stock. Not having had any space assigned me at the great

INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION,

I have concluded to show my stock in Middletown, and persons not having an opportunity to visit the Exhibition in Philadelphia and see the display of fine Stoves, have only to come to my store and Mr. W. H. Moore will take great pleasure in showing my stock which is

NOW COMPLETE,

and will show you the Testimonials of those already in use. My sale of HEATERS has far exceeded my expectations, having sold over fifty this past season. I am in receipt of Testimonials from a large majority of those now using them. I publish the names of a few of my many customers now using my Heaters:

Something New.

I have added to my stock of Stoves, Tin Ware and House Furnishing Goods, samples of which I can sell at Philadelphia prices. Mantles range in price from $25 to $250; Shelves, Brackets, Pedestals, in a word everything in that line. Old Mantles mended and repaired at short notice. Mantles made to order—Square, Circular and Elliptic. Call and get a catalogue and examine samples. All Mantle and Heater work will have my personal attention in their execution.

Thanking the public for past favor, I hope to maintain such relations with the trade as shall command for me the future, as in the past, a secure position in the foremost rank.

"THE BEST IS CHEAPEST."

THE DAVIS

VERTICAL FEED SHUTTLE

SEWING MACHINE

is unhesitatingly pronounced by hosts of practical operators to be the best machine for practicality and economy, as well as durability and simplicity, now before the public. It is, beyond question, more desirable for all kinds of work than any other machine in use. It is the only practical machine for hemming, binding, and all other such work without basting, and is especially adapted to DRESS MAKING.

The Vertical Feed-Bar involves a new feature, possessing one of the most valuable working principles ever invented.

The DAVIS was awarded the highest premium.

A Gold Medal,

over 19 competitors after a severe test of six weeks, by the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, in 1876.

It received the first PREMIUM as the best machine for general use at the great Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia; it was also awarded the Middletown Boot & Shoe Store.

To the Public:

To accommodate our growing manufacturing interests we have built large additions to our Buildings in Smyrna where we will shortly remove our shoe machinery. From this time we have inferred that we would relinquish our RETAIL Boot and Shoe trade here. We gratefully acknowledge a generous support from this community, and assure them that the STORE will be continued, and, by employing cheap home labor and home-tanned leather and Morocco, make a shoe that will give the most wear and comfort for the least money. Our stores require the labor of about twenty-five persons throughout the year, and keep about $15,000 at home that would otherwise go to prosper some other locality. We have made some mistakes, all manufacturers will, but we shall use materials of known superiority in the several grades of our shoes hereafter. We are supplying most of the best trade around Smyrna and here, and filling orders from many of Delaware's former customers all over the Peninsula. We will give you an exhibition of Boots and Shoes of our own make at the coming FAIR, and will ask a verdict and a continuation of your patronage. Very respectfully,

R. M. & W. T. JOHNSON.
